ICB's Scholar Program is a highly focused, six-part program of academic and experiential learning. Through lectures, group work, discussion sessions and practicums, students learn to apply Enneagram principles to their personal and professional relationships. Each of the three Enneagram Centers will be studied twice during the two-year curriculum. The primary text used is Becoming Conscious: The Enneagram's Forgotten Passageway by Joseph Howell, Ph.D. Over six intensives, Dr. Howell and ICB faculty lead participants through deep personal work within an intimate and safe learning community.

INSTINCT/BODY/GUT CENTER: In two intensive weekends over two years, we explore the instinct's role in finding our true selves, relieving ego's compulsions and uncovering truth behind the motivating factors that formed our ego. Living out of instinct we can reclaim the essence that has been there all along. The Body Center is the non-verbal consciousness within our physical body. It is a primary portal to the soul's wisdom. Communicating from our instinctual gut, from our DNA and from our physical sensations, this wisdom incarnate serves our needs for survival, healing and wholeness.

THINKING/MIND/HEAD CENTER: In two intensive weekends over two years, you will consider your true self beyond ego's limitations. Fears are dispelled when one's true nature of essence and ego are revealed. Divine intelligence, the seat of the Mind Center, is the soul's mental facility which can be described as the "still, small voice." In order to hear this voice, the mental chatter of ego's fears, desires and delusions must be silenced. When Divine mind arises it replaces ego's chatter. Mentally fixating on the ego's narrative is replaced by surrendering to reality. Only then can God's unfolding story be perceived by an attuned mind.

FEELING/HEART/EMOTION CENTER: In two intensive weekends over two years, you will connect with your inherent value as children of God. When we accept that we are worthy of unconditional love, we are free to express ourselves. The Heart Center is the facet of the soul which constellates our emotions. It is where ego's lovable or unlovable self-concepts reside. As our Heart Center's energy follows its path of integration, the ego's self-judgments are less relevant, and we become present to over-flowing love. Ego's emotional insecurities are replaced by the soul's certainty of being loved and lovable
